

Public Health Alert!

The Facts About 5G

- The UK government and telecommunication companies are pushing for a rollout of 5G wifi technology across Britain within the very near future, with some towns and cities virtually ready to go live now. Though sold to us on the promise of faster download speeds, there are a number of costs that will far outweigh any supposed benefits.
- Studies prove that 5G microwaves are hazardous to the health of humans in many ways, causing DNA damage, and being especially dangerous to children as they absorb up to 60% more microwaves than adults. Experts are predicting an explosion of cancer as a result of 5G.
- 5G millimeter waves are also hazardous to trees and other plant life, wildlife, bees – vital for pollination – and other insects. 5G test trials in Holland have reportedly seen birds dropping dead from the skies.
- Health concerns have prompted hundreds of doctors and scientists to call for a Moratorium on 5G until its safety for humans and other lifeforms has been proven.
- Yet our government and industry cares only for profits and are forging recklessly ahead with implementing 5G with absolutely no regard to its safety, or people's wishes as to whether they want this on their doorstep or not.

- Human health concerns include cancer, damage to skin, eyes, and the immune system, lowered sperm counts, headaches, depression, insomnia, memory loss and much more. Such technology has also been used by the military, and can be used for crowd control.
 - 5G will require small 5G transmitters to be installed at an estimated 100 to 200 yards apart, mainly on top of lamp posts. Many will be close to the bedrooms of people's homes, or near to schools, shops, hospitals and workplaces. It will be relentless, 24/7 saturation coverage of RF radiation for virtually everyone in the UK. It is telling that Lloyds insurers is refusing to cover 5G related illnesses.
 - The Internet of Things will see millions of 'smart' appliances, along with harmful 'smart meters', connected to the 5G grid, ensuring constant surveillance of almost every aspect of your life. Do you trust the government to hold that much information about you? Do you trust the government when it tells you that 5G is safe, when governments have historically always shown scant regard for public health, privacy, and the environment in the past?
 - Due to the poor performance of these millimeter waves when they have to pass through wet foliage, countless thousands of healthy trees have been, and are being, cut down to facilitate the coming 5G nightmare. Councils are implementing this destruction of our environment, and risking our health with zero public consultation.

There are a many excellent videos online showing why 5G must be stopped. To start, see '5G WiFi Smart Meters Armageddon' with Barrie Trower. It should be available on Youtube.
